

1 33 Elm Street

Fessenden and Lowell Company Cooperage sheds, circa 1872. Manufacturers of cooper stock, kits, pails, kegs, barrels, and lumber. It has served several furniture companies and today serves warehousing companies.

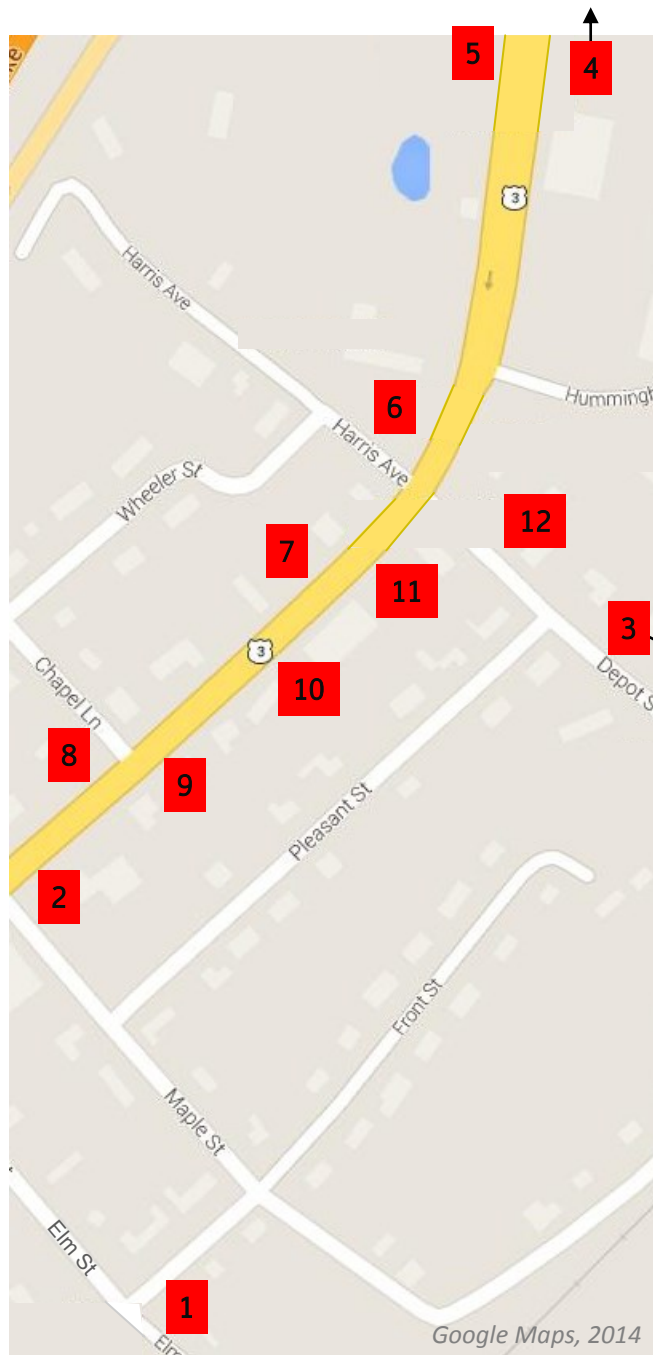

2 585 DW Highway

Arthur G. Gordon House built in 1896. The Victorian was the executive mansion of the Fessenden and Lowell Company. Later held Levi Lowell's Restaurant.

DEMOLISHED AND BURNED IN 2004
NOW SHAW'S SUPERMARKET

Researched and Designed for the Town of Merrimack,
New Hampshire Heritage Commission
by Anita Creager and Justin Calautti

REED'S FERRY VILLAGE

HISTORIC SITE BROCHURE

Madden's Restaurant
Demolished in 2008

TEL: 603-424-3531
[www.merrimacknh.gov/town/
boards_and_committees/heritage_commission](http://www.merrimacknh.gov/town/boards_and_committees/heritage_commission)

3 10 Depot Street

Originally the home of the McGaw Normal Institute, a teaching college founded in the late 1800's, this land now houses the PTA Kindergarten.

6 604 DW Highway

The Thornton Inn, built in 1890. Attractive Second Empire home now housing beautifully landscaped office space.

9 589 DW Highway

This quaint 19th century building was owned and most likely constructed by Fessenden and Lowell in 1840. Today it compliments the nearby Faith Episcopal Church.

4 641 DW Highway

The famous Smith Barn. The Smith Family property dates back to the 1700's. It has housed many restaurants and currently houses the Homestead Restaurant.

7 598 DW Highway

J. Anderson home built in the Federal Style, circa 1825. The stately brick home is now elegant Office suites.

5 622 DW Highway

Reed's Ferry graveyard and the final resting place of the first settler of Bedford, New Hampshire, also part of the earlier Naragansett #5 Township.

8 590 DW Highway

Referred to as the Parsonage lot, the Vernacular Victorian Wheeler Chapel was constructed in 1889. It is currently the Faith Episcopal Church.

10 597 DW Highway

The Anderson homes are prime examples of Greek Revival construction. The circa 1830 cape and connected 1886 Victorian structure are today Tortilla Flat Mexican Restaurant.

11 601 DW Highway

The Second Reed's Ferry Market. Constructed in 1917 by Fessenden and Lowell to accommodate its workers.

12 4 Depot Street

The elegant J. Wheeler Federal/Greek Revival structure, built in 1815, is home of Master Windsor Chair Craftsman Chuck Mower. His period workshop is located in the attached barn.

